The biggest way the Psychology program has benefited me is through the connections I've made with professors. My professors helped arrange my internship, offered valuable post-grad advice, and guided me through the process of fitting my passions into a career path. I am so grateful for the opportunity to learn from them and am impressed by their level of dedication to students. I love how flexible the psychology program is. I've taken classes I find genuinely interesting and have really enjoyed learning about a variety of subfields within psychology.
